

Why We Talk About Money

Money talks and so should we! We are creating spaces for intergenerational conversations where students, parents, and educators go beyond financial literacy to build financial resilience. Together we look at money as a tool and financial decision-making as a personal path. As a community we develop an understanding of our personal relationship with money, new ways of thinking and talking about money, and the skills to take action and advocate for ourselves and others.

Making Change Happen Together

Foster Care & Kinship Education & Independent Living Programs create space for talking about money and taking steps toward financial wellness, self-efficacy, and economic mobility. Studies show links between financial stability and mental and physical health, graduation rates and retention, and ongoing decision-making. Together we can break down barriers and let each other know that money is a tool and a process—you're not wrong, you're not bad at money, and you're not alone.

Book a Workshop Series

- Finding Your Pocket: The Comprehensive Financial Plan
- How Not to be a Broke College Student
- I Work for Me; It Works for Us
- Off Campus, On Point
- Ready to Work; Ready to Rock

Who We've Worked With

FOUNDATION for CALIFORNIA
COMMUNITY COLLEGES
www.foundationccc.org

BUTTE COLLEGE

COLLEGE OF THE SEQUOIAS

California
Coalition for Youth

Q: What is the most important thing you've learned?

"That I'm not alone with how I feel, and that there are ways to help me with my money"